

A NEW FAITH CURE APOSTLE.

HE COMES FROM THE ANTIPODES AND IS AGITATING THE WEST.

Forming a National Divine Healing Association, the Rev. J. A. Dowling, of the Antipodes, has been visiting the United States and Canada.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 5.—The Rev. J. A. Dowling, the Australian faith healer and "divine healer," has left the religious circles of Omaha on his way to the west. He has been here for some time, and has been holding religious meetings for two weeks. He has not been released to the public, but on the evening of the last assembly held by Mr. Dowling a branch organization of the National Association for Divine Healing was effected in order to continue to spread Mr. Dowling's doctrine. The latter association is one which has been in existence for some time, and has been organized in various parts of the world. Mr. Dowling first imparted his views to people of this country.

In order to become a member of the association, each candidate for admission was compelled to sign an application blank in which a belief in the doctrine of divine healing was affirmed. About a dozen persons were admitted to the ranks and to become members of the organization. Those present then proceeded to nominate officers for the local branch, who were at the same time to be subordinate to the authorities of the national association. The election resulted in the choice of A. W. Lamar, President; W. E. McCandish, Treasurer, and W. H. Miller, Secretary. But the office of President is still vacant, since the Rev. A. W. Lamar has declined that honor. The local association is to meet weekly in a room in the Y. M. C. A. building, in order to keep up the divine healing, and to receive the believers in the principal doctrines of Mr. Dowling. They accept certain teachings of the Bible as implying the promise of relief to those who seek aid by means of prayer in the name of Jesus. It is their belief that the sick may be cured by prayer, whether offered by the sick person himself or by his friends, and many witnesses are brought to testify to the fact of divine healing.

The method of operation varies. As conducted in the meetings of Mr. Dowling, the patient is seated in a chair, and the healer stands behind him, with his hands upon the patient's head or shoulders. The patient is then asked to close his eyes, and to think of the ailment which he wishes to be cured. The healer then proceeds to pray, and the patient is asked to think of the ailment which he wishes to be cured.

Many persons have been told of the results of these extraordinary prayers. In the language of one of the believers, "I have been cured of my ailment, and I am now well." The Rev. J. A. Dowling has been in the United States for some time, and has been holding religious meetings in various parts of the country. He has been very successful in his work, and has been able to cure many persons of their ailments. He has been very popular, and has been able to draw large crowds to his meetings.

One young lady, Miss Minnie Hottinger, living at 333 South Twelfth street, in Lincoln, Neb., had been suffering from a severe ailment for some time. She had been told of the Rev. J. A. Dowling, and had decided to go to his meetings. She had been very successful in her work, and had been able to cure many persons of their ailments. She had been very popular, and had been able to draw large crowds to his meetings.

At the last meeting fifty-one persons declared that they had been cured of their ailments. The Rev. J. A. Dowling has been very successful in his work, and has been able to cure many persons of their ailments. He has been very popular, and has been able to draw large crowds to his meetings.

CARPENTERS IN CONFERENCE.

Pacts to Show that Their Union is Accomplishing a Good Deal.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The morning session of the National Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, which assembled in listening to reports from the various executive officers. The biennial report of Secretary McNeill was read. In the course of his report he said:

"In four years we have advanced the wages of carpenters in 413 cities 25 to 75 cents per week, and in the same period we have increased the wages of carpenters in 1,500 cities 25 to 75 cents per week. The members of the Chicago branch of the Brotherhood received $1,700 during the strike here last spring from the general fund of the order."

The eight-hour question was reviewed at some length. In thirty-six cities the union was successful in introducing the eight-hour day. The reduction of hours, the Secretary said, has resulted in the saving of $1,700,000 in wages to the carpenters in those places."

ATHLETIC Gossip FROM ABROAD.

What the Runners and Gamesmen are Doing on the Other Side.

The contest for the Wimbledon scullers' championship, which took place week before last on the championship course between J. H. and Mortlake, was the best that this event has produced for half a dozen years. The fixture was instituted in 1880, and has been held each year since then. It was won by J. C. Gardner, Cambridge University Boat Club, who gave Nickalls, Oxford University Boat Club, a close race in the Henley regatta for the diamond sculls the previous year. Nickalls has been the winner of the Wimbledon for three years prior to his defeat this year. In 1887, when Gardner won, he beat Nickalls in the three following years. J. C. Gardner competed against him each time, except in 1889, when Nickalls had a walk over.

Gardner's slight defeat by Nickalls at the Henley regatta made him many followers for the Wimbledon. The predictions that he would row Nickalls down at this event came through, and, disappointing as it is said to be to Nickalls at being beaten for the first time in four years, he is said to express some satisfaction that such a good man as his victor. His weight on the day was 172 pounds, while Gardner weighed 163 pounds. At the pistol Gardner took the lead in good fashion, pulling nineteen strokes in the first half minute to eighteen for Nickalls. Both scullers thirty-five strokes in the minute. Nickalls' half mile had been passed Gardner, still led, pulling twenty-eight strokes to thirty-two for his opponent. Soon after this point Nickalls drew up until he was only several feet behind. A little more distance covered and Nickalls led by about a couple of yards, both pulling thirty strokes. ## A MADMAN IN A HOTEL.

He Slashes Two Chambermaids with a Knife and One Will Probab.

NORTH AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—A young man named John T. H. who was returning from the Spiritualist camp meeting at Onset Bay, stabbed two chambermaids at the Mansion House this noon, while laboring under the insane idea that some one was trying to murder him. He arrived here from Pittsburgh last evening and went at once to his room. During the evening he was quiet, but about midnight he began to jump up and down and call for protection from some one who he said was trying to murder him. His fears were calmed by the night watchman, but he soon began again and continued his ranting all night long.

His cries continued until this noon. While nearly every one in the hotel was at dinner he rushed out of his room, with an open jackknife in his hand. The only person on that floor was Rosanna Kane, a chambermaid. Tiffany caught her by the hair and swinging her around, slashed her with his knife, cutting a deep six inch long incision in her forehead. She screamed. Miss Kane, one of the hotel clerks, rushed up stairs, but before she reached the room she saw that the man was gone. She called out to the night watchman, who came to the room. There are doubts as to Miss Kane's account of the matter. She says that she saw the man running down the stairs, and that she saw him running down the stairs.

"In the Wash"

That's where your delicate handkerchiefs come to be "more hole-y than righteous"—certainly not in the show-like service required of them—more or less true of all things washed.

Give two equally delicate handkerchiefs equal service for one year.

Wash one with soap—usual way—the other with Pearline—without rubbing, as directed on the wrapper. One handkerchief will last you two years. The old-fashioned way of rub, rub, rub, is slow work, poor work, slow death to women—quick death to fine things, and renders coarse things useless long before their time. Pearline does away with all this. Costs but five cents to try it; directions for easy washing on every package; easy for you, easy on things washed. We can't make you try Pearline—you would thank us if we could. Millions are grateful for its help. Envious soap makers try to imitate it—borrowed brains are cheap—and so are their productions.

Send it back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if you grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back.

A TERRIBLE RAIN STORM. Sunday's Phenomena Very Extended and Destructive in Its Effects. MAISON CITY, Iowa, Aug. 5.—A destructive wind and hail storm, much worse than at first reported, swept over Lyon, Osceola, Dickinson, Emmett, and Winnebago counties on Sunday, destroying nearly everything in its path. Many houses and barns were killed, and many who were out were badly cut by the hail and several are reported as seriously injured. The track of the storm was about fourteen miles wide, following
